Rapid Asia as a key consulting agency appointed Ahmed Abid to recruit, train and conduct the field work by the local social science researchers. Rapid Asia and Plan provided necessary training including child safeguard training. As a field manager Ahmed has led a team of 12 researchers team including him (female, males) including reporting to Rapid Asia.

Communications and New Media Department, National University of Singapore (NUS), May 2, 2013, to May 2, 2015

Position: Coordinator and associate investigator

Projects:

1. Meaning of health to Bangladeshi migrant workers in Singapore and their health issues.
2. Bt. Brinjal plantation and impact on farmers in Bangladesh.
3. Religious conflict sensitivity: A critical study of Gonojagoron Moncho in Bangladesh.

Funded by: Center for Culture-Centered Approach to Research and Evaluation (CARE)

Department of Communications and New Media, National University of Singapore, Singapore

IBA-Development, Bangkok, January 3, 2011, to January 31, 2013.

Position: Communication and media consultant: Supervisor: Dr. Melinda MacDonald

Ahmed provided support to develop media projects and content on children, ethnic minorities, and migrant workers' rights and social justice, providing technical assistance to complete media and human rights-related campaigns and advocacy products. This included technical assistance to the Child Protection Partnership (CPP), [which includes Plan International and the International Institute for Child Rights (IICRD)] and to other CSOs including ANFREL (Asian Network for Free Elections).

In 2012, to promote awareness of the effects of discrimination on vulnerable populations and the benefits of safe migration, he designed Shaupnojatra (Journey of Hope) which received funding from the Prince Claus Fund in the Netherlands. In this design, he used a documentary film (The Dreaming Vendors) and indigenous art motifs including music and theatrical performances, to promote social change. The presentations were featured in a cultural caravan on safe migration which was delivered by a traveling group of actors and musicians throughout Bangladesh. Performances continued over 18 months (from September 2012 to June 2014) until they had been delivered widely throughout the country before completion of the project in June 2014.

SEARCH-CIDA, October 1, 2006, to December 31, 2010
