Thanking you!

... for your participation in the webinar on Continuing online academic activities in universities

Dear Dr Rahman

We would like to express our heartfelt thanks for your participation and contribution to the experience sharing session on tackling academic activities during these unprecedented times.

Our focus was to learn from the initiatives of one another and explore the opportunities by which we can collaborate and support each other. Your participation helped in achieving the goal of this webinar.

The British Council has always focussed on improving education and will continue its effort in the upcoming years. Together we can positively contribute to the overall quality enhancement in the higher education system of Bangladesh.

Should you have any questions regarding the session or any other issue, please do not hesitate to contact me.

I look forward to meeting you soon.

Stay healthy, Stay Safe!

Yours Sincerely

David Maynard
